Suggested Use for Flipchart with Pictures Only

These pictures can provide a great resource for teaching this song!

- Print the pictures out and tape them on the walls around the Primary room in random order.
- Sing the first line to the children, “I came to earth with power to choose.” Ask the children to find the picture that best illustrates that line (you may need to talk about the story of the picture a bit). When they find the picture, you can place it on the magnet board with magnets, or on the chalkboard with tape or poster putty... and discuss the meaning of the line more fully. Searching for the picture to fit the words really helps the children think about the meaning.
- Sing the line together.
- Sing the next line to the children, “Good choices bless me and my family too.” Have the children find the picture, discuss it and put it in order. Then sing the line together. Then sing both lines together.
- Continue on in this fashion as you learn the entire song (may take a couple of weeks).
- The pictures (either these without text, or the pictures with text) can then be placed in the Picture Presenter for learning and review in future weeks. The Picture Presenter keeps the flipchart pictures nicely in order, organized for you to use at a moment’s notice, and safe from the rough little hands of small children.
